

Did You Know?

Did you know...we have a wonderful church library? It's located behind the stage on the piano side. Books are available to church members to check out on an as desired basis.

News You Can Use

We wish to extend a special welcome to our guests today from Mt. Pisgah Academy. Mt. Pisgah is a Seventh-day Adventist boarding high school located in Western North Carolina that our local church supports. We currently have 2 young people from this church that attend Mt. Pisgah.

Do you need special prayer? On the first of each month a prayer service will be held immediately following the worship service for anyone who would like to meet with an elder for special prayer. The service will meet in the young adult room which is behind the stage area opposite the piano.

We are very excited about the Children's Ministries program and training scheduled for the weekend of February 23rd. Dr. Linda Koh, Director of Children's Ministries for SDA General Conference, will preach on Sabbath. She will also conduct training seminars on Friday evening, Sabbath afternoon, and Sunday afternoon. Youth Leaders, Sabbath School Teachers, and anyone interested in assisting with the training of our youth, please plan to take advantage of this unique opportunity to participate.

BUILDING THE BODY OF CHRIST: In an effort to forward the Work of the Kingdom and help Raleigh SDA be successful in its sowing (Outreach) and reaping (Evangelism) ministries, your new Interest Coordinator, Elizabeth Salisbury, needs your help! She asks that anyone who has information on individuals who have expressed an interest in the message of the Gospel, in our church, our programs, whom you have invited to Share Him events, etc., would submit this information to her for inclusion in our new Prospect database. Please include all you know about them. You may reach Elizabeth by email at esalisbury1@nc.rr.com or by phone at (919) 323-9041. Don't hesitate! His coming is near

ACA News

School board Spotlight: Whitney Andrew: I was born in 1978 in Virginia and I am an only child. I was raised in a Baptist church and went to public schools my whole life. I accepted Jesus as a young teenager at an emotionally charged youth retreat and did not really stick with my decision at all. I definitely left the path that was in God's will all through high school and through most of college. My parents prayed consistently for me and as a result I ran into an old friend from high school (Rainey Buscher) and he invited me to church with him in Chapel Hill. I was at a low point in my life and was really looking for something better so I decided to give it a shot! I met another great friend (Darcy Todd- now known as Darcy Griffin) and she invited me to the Net '99 series at the Raleigh church. I went almost every night and was in awe of all the new things I was learning that I had never heard. I eventually decided to be re-baptized and re-dedicate my life to God. Darcy also introduced me to Lee Andrew. We were good friends right from the start because we had very similar journeys leading us back to God's will. We were married about two years from the day we met (on May 13, 2001). We both believe God led us to each other and kept us together through some early struggles in our relationship in order to bring us both into a closer relationship with Him! We had our boy Caleb on April 25, 2006 and are expecting a little girl sometime very soon (by the time this is printed she may be here).

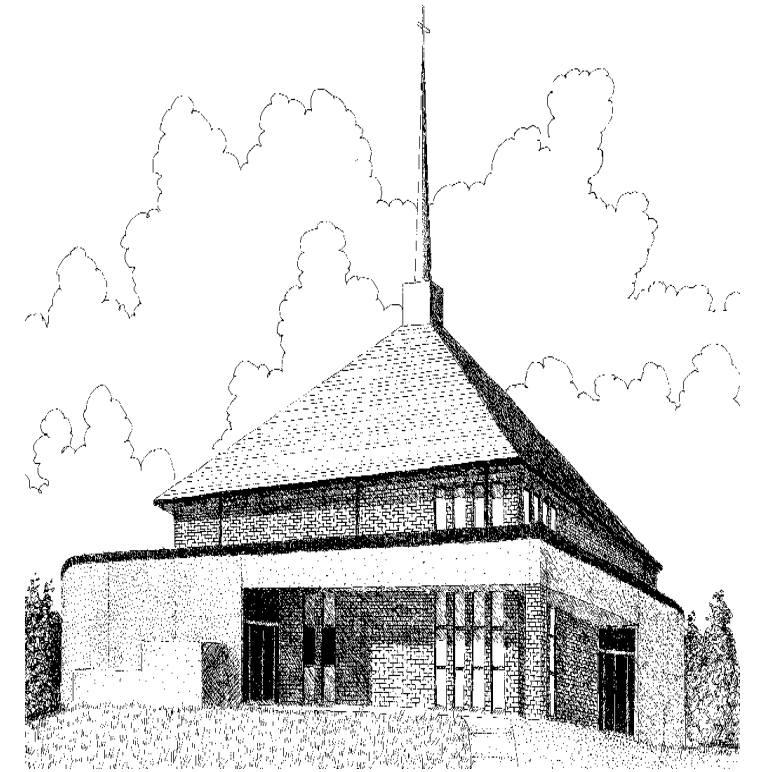

I believe Adventist Education is so very important for our young people. I received a perfectly adequate education in public schools, but if there had been a stronger Christian influence in my life I do think I would have made better choices and been spared a lot of pain. I know from personal experience that kids will usually go along with what their friends are doing. It stands to reason that if kids are in Adventist schools then they are more likely to have friends with the same values as their families. I know without a doubt that my children will benefit greatly from being raised in a Christian home and attending Adventist schools. When I heard the statistics about how greatly combining these two influences can increase a child's chance of staying close to God and on his path, I knew Lee and I would do whatever it takes to make sure our children would have that advantage in life!

Many thanks to Arnie Jimenez for taking care of our recent Internet wiring needs! Thanks so much for taking care of us at ACA!
